

Perfect pitch: Intune will broadcast Snow Patrol's gig live

Intune with Snow Patrol generation

IN A global first, Intune Networks will broadcast a live Snow Patrol concert at the Other Voices festival in Dingle using its new, high definition transmission system.

The Dublin-based telecoms equipment supplier has partnered with Other Voices to demonstrate its unique technological advance (a distributed telecoms switch based on Optical Burst Switching) that enables mass, live, simultaneous content downloads.

It will transmit the Snow Patrol concert live, to audiences around Dingle. 'This world-first demonstration illustrates that Intune's ground-breaking technology is ready to deliver the most demanding of live multi-media events and meet the consumer's highest quality expectations across a multitude of devices and formats,' it said.

Mail Business Staff

Tim Fritzley, CEO of Intune Networks, said: 'The Other Voices event is the perfect platform to showcase Intune's technology for the first time.'

