

GOING WITH THE FLO ON A WINTER'S DAY

WARM-UP: Flame-haired songstress Florence Welch of Florence and the Machine was kicking up her heels in Kerry this weekend ahead of her concert at Dublin's Olympia Theatre tomorrow night. Florence was sipping hot whiskies beside a warm fire in Corrig, as gales lashed Dingle, where she was recording a session for the 'Other Voices' series. Her debut album 'Lungs', is an intoxicating combination of soul and indie music which thrilled critics upon its release and reached number two in the UK album charts, as well as receiving a Barclaycard Mercury Music Prize nomination. Photo: Don MacMonagle